

Editor's Note

The Journal of Geriatric Physical Therapy has long been indexed in the Cumulative Index of Allied Health and the Allied and Complimentary Medicine Database. Moreover, it has been accessible through FreeMedicalJournals.Com. While these avenues have provided access to the Journal for those who use them, Medline/PubMed remains the premier database used by many (if not most) to find information relevant to practice. Consequently, I am pleased to announce that the Journal of Geriatric Physical Therapy is now indexed by Medline/PubMed. This indexing will provide our authors' work with greater exposure. We continue to pursue inclusion in other databases that will expand public awareness of our authors' contributions.
