

Editor's Note

Twenty-eight complete volumes of the Journal of Geriatric Physical Therapy have now been published. I would like to recognize and thank the Editorial Board members and reviewers (listed below) for their essential contribution to the process. Their faithfulness has permitted me to communicate disposition to our authors within a mean 7.0 weeks of manuscript receipt. This rapid review continues to distinguish the Journal of Geriatric Physical Therapy from many other peer-reviewed journals.

In 2005, we were able to publish 5 papers in each issue. The published research reports, reviews, and case studies covered a broad range of topics relevant to geriatric physical therapy.

The Journal, formerly indexed in the Cumulative Index of Nursing and Allied Health and the Allied and Complementary Medicine Database, is now indexed in PubMed/Medline as well. Thus, our authors' work now realizes greater exposure and hopefully broader application in clinical care.
